The closest prior art of Takae (US 2002/0035479 A1) teaches an access contract changing method can easily change an access contract between a prepaid contract and a postpaid contract so as to reduce inconvenience to a portable phone user. In regarding to independent claims 1 and 20, Takae taken either individually or in combination with other prior art of record fails to teach or render obvious a first transmitting device to transmit the information relating to the item or items in the installment payment application extracted by said processing device to the second terminal apparatus via the communication network; a second transmitting device to transmit the information relating to the item or items predetermined in the settlement service application extracted by said processing device to the third terminal apparatus via the communication network; a first receiving device to receive installment payment examination result information indicating an acceptance or refusal of an installment payment transmitted via the communication network from the second terminal apparatus in response to the transmitted information relating to the item or items in the installment payment application; a second receiving device to receive settlement service examination result information indicating an acceptance or refusal of a settlement service transmitted via the communication network from the third terminal apparatus in response to the transmitted information relating to the item or items in the settlement service application; and a confirming device for confirming to confirm a payment plan indicated by the payment plan information inputted via said inputting device, on the basis of the installment payment examination result information and the settlement service examination result information received by said second receiving device.
